"My son," said a good mother to a young hopeful, "did you wish your teacher a happy new year?" "No, ma'am," responded the boy. "Well, why not?" "Because," said the youth, "she isn't happy unless she's whipping some of our boys, and I was afraid if I wished her happiness she'd go for me."

THE MASONIC MONITOR.—This is the title of a new monthly eight page journal published at Goldsboro, N. C., by Julia A. Bonitz, Esq., the present able and efficient editor of the Carolina Messenger. This journal is devoted to Masonry in North Carolina, and should be in the hands of every craftsman in the State. The editor says "we are determined that the Monitor shall take the front rank of Masonic journalism, and shall be indispensable to the fraternity." We can vouch for this statement, as we have known the editor for some time, and commend his enterprise to the public. It is issued the first of every month, at $1.00 per annum in advance. Address Julia A. Bonitz, Esq., Managing Editor and Proprietor, Goldsboro, N. C.

WHOSE FAULT?—At the Central depot, between the tracks of the Raleigh Gaston and the North Carolina Railroads, the mail reaches the axes of the mules that deliver and receive passengers, who go by their way as best they can to and from the cars.

We know not whose fault it is, whether the City Street Committee, or the railroad authorities, but certain it is, a serious fault somewhere, and the evil could be remedied at once.

THE ARRIVAL OF A LUNATIC.—A. T. Watson, Esq., in charge of the extensive Furniture Warehouses of W. H. Morris &amp; Co., a pair of worsted wreaths for adorning picture frames, which in point of beauty and design are really gems of art. They were made by a young lady of this city, residing on Fayetteville street, whose delicate modesty would not admit of our using her name.

MEETING OF THE WAKE COUNTY BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Meeting of this Society will take place at the Baptist Church on Thursday evening next. It is expected that all the City Pastors will participate in the meeting, several of whom will deliver addresses in furtherance of the good cause.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF A CITIZEN OF HENDERSON—FEARS OF FOUL PLAY—THE COMMUNITY EXCITED.

—From an esteemed correspondent at Henderson, N. C., we learn the particulars of the mysterious disappearance of Mr. James Waters, an industrious and estimable citizen of that town. He left the town on Friday afternoon for the purpose of purchasing leather at Church's Store, in Warren county, about four miles distant. He left Church's Store at 7 o'clock, with a bottle of whiskey purchased at the store; was next seen at the Rock Quarry, on the R. & G. R. R., having apparently lost his way, but was there put in the right road. He was last seen by two negroes named Warner Hamilton and Watkins, below the Quarry, and going from Henderson.

Our correspondent further states that the man Hamilton has made contradictory statements in regard to when, and where he last saw Waters, and as he was known to have kept on his person a considerable amount of gold and silver, serious fears are entertained of his being foully dealt with, and suspicion points to certain parties above named. Much excitement prevails in this heretofore quiet and orderly village.

THE WHOLESALE TRADE OF RALEIGH.

—We verily do not believe that any city south of New York, even including that great metropolis, can offer inducements to our country merchants superior to those of our city merchants. We do not except any line of goods except notions and imported dress goods fabrics, and we must say we are not certain that the country merchant can do better in New York even in these goods.

Happening in at Tucker's yesterday evening, we were shown by one of the enterprising members of this firm through their wholesale department, which we candidly confess a great surprise as to what Raleigh could do; we saw thirty-five cases of spring and summer prints bought before the rise in cotton, and offered at prices that would induce the cautious and careful country merchant to purchase; seventy-five cases Brown Domestic, and forty cases Blech'd Domestic, 3,000 dozen spool cotton, all bought as above. We merely mention these goods because they are the leading articles of the country trade. We found the general stock of this large firm equal both in quantity and price as those stated.

LINGARD'S COMBINATION.—This evening Mr. Wm. Horace Lingard, with Miss Alice Dunning, supported by a magnificent Company of celebrated Comedians, will open at Tucker Hall with the excellent comedy, David Garrick, in which Mr. Lingard and Miss Dunning will sustain the leading characters, Squire Chavvy, and Arla Ingot. After which Mr. Lingard will introduce himself in the sketches of Various Characters that has made him so famous in the Theatrical world. The evening's entertainment will close with the roaring farce entitled "Day after marriage." Though in the midst of the Lenten Season, which will necessarily interfere, yet we reasonably expect to see Tucker Hall crowded on the occasion.

TO ERR IS HUMAN.—All men are liable to err, and we can state from experience that Local editors cannot be classed an exception to this rule. The types made us say yesterday that the highly accomplished North Carolina actress—Miss Laura Alexander—was filling an engagement at the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, when the "copy" plainly stated Theatre. So it was the compositor, and not us that reduced the rank of Miss Alexander to a chamber maid.

And again: Our statement touching the sale of the store on Market Square, by the Messrs. Tucker to Mr. Jeff. Fisher, is incorrect. Propositions were made and pending, and just before going to press we learned that the arrangements as stated were perfected.

FASHION NOTES.—Overshirts and costumes are now confined to street and evening dress.

Easter toilettes will many of them be composed of two colors, in silk, gray and pink, dove color and crimson, stone color and blue, chocolate bran and deep turquoise blue, lilac and black, or green and black.

Complete suits of black or the various shades of brown are, of course, always worn and always in fashion.

Gray veils are the favorites at present. Next there is brown, then blue and lastly green.

White tulle, either hemmed or the edges smoothly cut, makes a neat and inexpensive bridal veil.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Monday, March 4th, 1872.—Mayor W. H. Harrison, presiding.

—Nicholas John, the Fayetteville street Restorateur, arrested at the instigation of Aleck Hawkins, col., who upon affidavit, stated that the said Nicholas John, with knives and pistols, did make an assault upon him, the said Aleck Hawkins.

The charges being sustained by the oath of several witnesses, the defendant was held in the penal bond of $100 for his personal appearance at the next term of Wake Superior Court.

WE HAVE BEEN SHOWN BY MR. J. B. WATSON, Esq., in charge of the extensive Furniture Warehouses of W. H. Morris &amp; Co., a pair of worsted wreaths for adorning picture frames, which in point of beauty and design are really gems of art. They were made by a young lady of this city, residing on Fayetteville street, whose delicate modesty would not admit of our using her name.

MEETING OF THE WAKE COUNTY BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Meeting of this Society will take place at the Baptist Church on Thursday evening next. It is expected that all the City Pastors will participate in the meeting, several of whom will deliver addresses in furtherance of the good cause.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The Superior Court of Law for Wake county, Judge W. A. Moore to preside, will commence in this City Monday April 8th, 1872. We present below the Jury List:

FIRST WEEK.

R. H. Page, Robert Crosson, Dock Williams, Henry Pulley, Wm. Baker, Thos. Rigby, W. R. Poole, James Holloway, Jessie Weathers, John Womble, Monroe Jones, James S. Ray, L. C. Thompson, C. J. Rogers, Allen Morgan, John Dickson, B. A. Perry, Jas. Hobby, W. C. Bledsoe, Wm. Mills, S. M. Utley, W. R. McDade, Zadoc Stephenson, J. M. Holleman, E. B. Jones, Hilliard Rogers, S. W. Eddins, H. C. Lashley, Manley Watkins, Rufin Medlen, A. D. Royster, Burton Mangum, Green Blake, Fab. Copeland, Samuel Upchurch, Jno. Rogers.

SECOND WEEK.

W. W. Weathers, Rufus Barbee, Mack Carter, Caswell Powell, Calvin Horton, Ruffin Fort, John Hill, A. T. Mial, Wesley Hinton, W. D. Turner, Green H. Hill, John Dunn, Dick Crockett, E. O. Macey, J. T. Lawrence, C. N. Hill, Lewis Holding, Benj. Hyler.

LIGHT.—Our contemporaries having so often ventilated this important matter, we do not propose to "wade in" just now, but we are entitled to, and must have a little, say, Oak City Hall is situated on Wilmington street, only one square from Fayetteville, the principal thoroughfare. There are frequent attractions at this Hall, interesting and entertaining to all of our citizens. Martin's leads from Fayetteville to the Hall, the entire length of this street the pavement is always filled with bales of cotton, only a small pass, not large enough for a lady and gentleman to walk together, nor even one man to walk without danger to life or limb in the dark. If the City Commissioners have not the means to purchase gas, and we do not think they have at its present exorbitant prices, then we think it legal, right and just to tax the cotton purchasers for the use of the pavement to an amount sufficient to pay for the gas necessary to light this street.

A GOOD GUESS.—As will be seen in our editorial columns, our Senior predicted that the reason why Gov. Holden resigned his position on the Washington Chronicle was to accept the position of Minister to Peru, made vacant by the resignation of Judge Settle. The article now in press, and written a ten o'clock this a. m., is partially confirmed by the midnight dispatches just received. Now, who can beat our Senior on the guess?

A SUGGESTION.—The blind pupils at our Institution are receiving instruction in only two arts—the boys in broom making and the girls in bead work. We suggest that basket making could be added. Our swamps are alive with willows, and the making of willow baskets is easily learned, and would be found more profitable than broom making.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the regular meeting of the Raleigh Typographical Union, No. 54, held on Saturday evening last, the following officers were elected to fill the unexpired term: Vice President, W. J. Edwards, vice J. S. Harward, resigned. Treasurer, J. J. Lewis, vice W. M. Brown, resigned.

SERIOUS.—The printers on a neighboring journal have rendered themselves liable to a charge of profanity by spelling Danville with an m. Don't do it any more, boys—because when the line is run between this State and Virginia it may be found that you have made a cursed town belong to North Carolina.

MR. ENGELHART, the landscape gardener of this city is preparing a work to be entitled "Influence of the Beautiful in Nature on the Human Mind." We learn he has made a number of drawings of prominent places in and around Raleigh to embellish the book.

STREETS.—The R. R. Companies, purpose to fix the streets adjacent to the N. C. R. R. Depot, by removing about one foot of mud and clay, and replace it with pulverized rock; this is a thing much needed, and it is to be hoped that the work will not be delayed.

CROSSINGS.—Commissioner Backalan has two fine stone crossings ready to lay on Fayetteville street, as soon as the weather will admit; one to be laid in front of the Yarbrough House.

OWING TO THE sickness of our regular carrier, many of our City patrons failed to get the News yesterday morning. Hereafter, should any failure occur, we would take it as an especial favor that notification of the same be given at our office.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.—Judge O. P. Meares, of Wilmington, Col. Joseph W. Hyman, of Tarboro, Sheriff R. S. Harris, of Cabarrus, are stopping at the Yarbrough.

GOOD.—The U. S. Senate Committee "on public buildings" have reported favorably on the bill appropriating $100,000 for public buildings in the city of Raleigh.

ENQUIRY.—What has become of the Citizen's Cornet Band we used to hear and read of? We hope to hear the band as soon as the weather will permit.

DR. GRISOM, the efficient Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum, is preparing the Asylum grounds for sowing grass.

CAMP.—The new buildings recently erected in the campus at Camp Russell, are to be used as officers' quarters.

The two Literary Societies of Monmouth College are to have a contest with those of Knox, on the 17th of May, at Galesburg, Ill.

EIGHTY vessels arrived at the port of Wilmington during the month of February.

VanNorton, the President of the Savings Bank was sentenced to Parish prison for ten days for refusing to produce in Court certain bank box deposited with him on January 10th by M. A. Southland and Senator Lewis, containing $30,000 and an agreement that Lewis should sustain Pinchbank and Warmouth's administration, or attend regularly the session of the Legislature each day, said box "to be delivered to Lewis on March 4th upon complying with certain conditions. VanNorton was immediately pardoned by Gov. Warmouth and liberated. During the investigation it transpired that Southworth compounded with VanNorton a month ago and removed the money from the box, and finally when brought into Court this morning, it contained nothing but the agreement referred to. The full statement of this case will probably be sent to the Congressional Investigation Committee.

The following appeared in the Galveston News as special: "Austin, Feb. 19th. Marshal Purrell went to Governor Davis this morning and presented a capias, and asked him if he would submit to arrest.
